DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This office action is in response to the amendment submitted on 15 May 2006.
Currently claims 15-17 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 15-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese Patent Specification No. 52-052256 for the reasons set forth in the previous office action which are herein incorporated by reference.

Applicant argues that the instant claims are not rendered obvious by the reference as the major component of the reference is sodium nitrate which is different than that instantly claimed.

It is the position of the examiner that the instant claims are rendered obvious by the reference as the instant claims are not limited to just a binary composition in water. Note that the reference teaches amounts of components that encompass the amounts instantly claimed. Further it is well settled that when a claimed composition appears to be substantially the same as a composition disclosed in the prior art, the burden is properly upon the applicant to prove by way of tangible evidence that the prior art composition does not necessarily possess characteristics attributed to the CLAIMED composition. In re Spada, 911 F.2d 705, 15 USPQ2d 1655 (Fed. Circ. 1990); In re Fitzgerald, 619 F.2d 67, 205 USPQ 594 (CCPA 1980); In re Swinehart, 439 F.2d. 2109, 169 USPQ 226 (CCPA 1971).

4. Claim 16 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese Patent Specification No. 55-161878 for the reasons set forth in the previous office action which are herein incorporated by reference.

Applicant argues that the instant composition is not suggested by the reference as the reference teaches that after water is added temperature depression takes place and the nature of this phenomenon is very different from the agent of claim 16.

It is the position of the examiner that while the reference does not recite that the composition is a cold storage agent it is well settled that when a claimed composition appears to be substantially the same as a composition disclosed in the prior art, the burden is properly upon the applicant to prove by way of tangible evidence that the prior art composition does not necessarily possess characteristics attributed to the CLAIMED composition. In re Spada, 911 F.2d 705, 15 USPQ2d 1655 (Fed. Circ. 1990); In re Fitzgerald, 619 F.2d 67, 205 USPQ 594 (CCPA 1980); In re Swinehart, 439 F.2d. 2109, 169 USPQ 226 (CCPA 1971).

5. Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese Patent Specification No. 63-086791 for the reasons set forth in the previous office action which are herein incorporated by reference.

Applicant argues that the instant composition is not suggested by the reference as the compound of the reference is not a simple mixture of $MgCl_2$ and $CaCl_2$ and the examples do not show an obvious freezing point.

It is the position of the examiner that while the reference does not recite that the composition is a cold storage agent or show that the composition has an obvious freezing point that falls within the scope of the claim it is well settled that when a claimed composition appears to be substantially the same as a composition disclosed in the prior art, the burden is properly upon the applicant to prove by way of tangible evidence that the prior art composition does not necessarily possess characteristics attributed to the CLAIMED composition. In re Spada, 911 F.2d 705, 15 USPQ2d 1655 (Fed. Circ. 1990); In re Fitzgerald, 619 F.2d 67, 205 USPQ 594 (CCPA 1980); In re Swinehart, 439 F.2d. 2109, 169 USPQ 226 (CCPA 1971). Note also that applicant's claim is drafted as a product-by-process claim and that it does not positively recite that the composition is frozen.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
